Careless Public To Blame As County Traffic Toll Mounts

By RALPH FRATILA

Bowing to the general public's demand, open season has been declared in Columbiana County this year on the biggest "game" of all—human beings.

The popularity of the "sport" is attributed to the fact that very few restrictions govern a person's indulgence in it. Participants may be male or female, old or young, sober or drunk—or even asleep.

No time limits are imposed on those desiring to participate in the "hunting;" good results have been obtained both night and day.

Equal flexibility rules the type of armament employed. Cars, motorcycles, light trucks and lumbering truck-trailers have all been used with marked success.

Long regarded as one of the most congested and dangerous traffic centers in the state, the Salem State Highway Patrol area this year is more than living up to its dubious distinction.

SO FAR IN '52, 24 "kills" have occurred on county highways. The total up to the present time this year in Columbiana County alone is higher than the 22 fatalities recorded in all of 1951 throughout the entire area covered by patrolmen from the Salem Barracks—a territory comprised of Columbiana County, two-thirds of Mahoning County, and parts of Portage, Stark and Carroll Counties.

Cpl. Edward W. Mallery, officer in charge of the Salem barracks, says that if the road slaughter continues at the same pace during the remainder of the year, an all-time record will be established for this district.

In step with the accelerated traffic death rate is the ever-mounting toll of persons maimed, crippled or hospitalized and the hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damages incurred as the result of highway mishaps.

Approximately 90 to 100 accidents occur in this area every month, bringing injury or death to between 50 and 75 persons, Cpl. Mallery revealed. The majority of the mishaps occurs between the hours of 2 to 9 a.m.

CPL. EDWARD W. MALLERY, officer in charge of the Salem State Highway Patrol barracks, sends out instructions over the short wave radio to a patrol car, following a report received at the station concerning an accident.

SATURDAY and Sunday are the most dangerous days of the week for motorists, he observed, with the peril tremendously increased on holiday weekends.

Sunday also shows a marked increase of traffic mishaps on country roads, Cpl. Mallery said. The ordinary pleasure motorist, out for a lazy Sunday afternoon drive, usually travels over county roads to avoid the heavy traffic encountered on state highways.

Because of the paucity of traffic on such roads, the average motorist is sometimes lulled by a false sense of safety and does not observe all the precautions he would take on a busy thoroughfare, a neglect which increasingly often results in tragedy.

Of persons involved in traffic accidents, those in the age group of 18 to 26 lead every other class. Automobile insurance rates to persons in that group are usually higher than to those in other classes and instances have been cited wherein companies will not grant insurance to young drivers.

MAIN CAUSES of traffic mishaps are excessive speed, drunken driving and reckless operation, Cpl. Mallery said.

In order to combat the mounting accident rate here, the Salem State Highway Patrol force has been all but trebled since 1942. But despite the thousands of arrests made each year, death and destruction still rule the highways.

Thirteen patrolmen are too few to instill fear or caution into all the people driving about this area, Cpl. Mallery said. The accident rate can recede only when motorists learn to drive with their minds as well as with their bodies.

Sen. McKellar's Long Senate Career Ended

Albert Gore Wins Tennessee Primary From Incumbent, 83

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Albert Gore, handsome young Tennessee congressman, wrote finis to the long senatorial career of Kenneth D. McKellar, 83-year-old dean of the U. S. Senate, in nearly complete returns from Democratic primary.

In another ousting of the "ins," 32-year-old Frank G. Clement ended Gordon Browning's four-year reign as governor. Browning was seeking a third two-year term.

The 44-year-old Gore, who campaigned long and earnestly throughout the state after his Fourth District was eliminated in a 1951 redistricting act, piled up what seemed certain to be an insurmountable lead over McKellar during the night-long tabulation of unofficial returns from Tennessee's Democratic and Republican primaries.

Leads By 55,000

Returns from 2,022 of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts gave Gore 210,300 votes, a lead of about 55,000 over McKellar's 155,883.

But McKellar, remaining in his hotel room at Memphis, refused to concede defeat in his try for an unprecedented seventh term in the Senate.

The winner in the Democratic senatorial primary faces only token Republican opposition in the November general election in overwhelmingly Democratic Tennessee.

Hobart Atkins of Knoxville apparently was an easy victor in a three-man race for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Returns from 2,029 precincts gave Clement, a former FBI agent, 192,812 votes, Browning 165,547 and Clifford Allen Jr. 49,962.

Staunch Browning Supporter

The Nashville Tennesseean, a staunch Browning supporter, conceded Clement's victory shortly before midnight last night. Browning himself had no statement.

Results of the two major races left the Tennessee political picture somewhat scrambled.

Memphis political leader E. H. Crump, on the comeback trail after his gubernatorial and senatorial candidacies were defeated four years ago by Browning and Sen. Estes Kefauver, supported McKellar and Clement.

Crump, always a McKellar stalwart, could not stem the tide against the aging senator. Just what his support of Clement meant was a matter of conjecture.

McKellar, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has been a powerful figure on the Washington political scene for more than a quarter century. He was a strong supporter of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Gore, although still in his early 40's, is a veteran of seven terms in the House. He, too, is a long-time supporter of the TVA and the nation's atomic program. He has served on the House Appropriations Committee for years.

Water Usage Sets Record Here In July

The consumption of water in the city during July reached a total of 62,116,380 gallons, an all-time record for any one month. Water Superintendent B. V. DeVier said today.

The average daily use amounted to 2,037,544 gallons, with a peak of 2,657,000 gallons consumed on July 9.

Previous to the July record, August of 1950 held the distinction of being highest consumption month listed in water department records.

The high rate of use in July was attributed in large measure to the heat wave which scorched this area during that period.

Despite the peak consumption, however, the Stewart Rd. reservoir is full and, unless unforeseen circumstances develop, no shortage should arise before the new East Cold Run reservoir is completed, Mr. DeVier said.

Improvements made since the last critical shortage this summer especially the cleaning out of the gravity line from the 12th St. Zelle well field, have contributed greatly to the present improved water situation.

More Justice Men To Quit

May Fire Some U. S. District Attorneys

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new round of top-level resignations in the Justice Department was reported in prospect today, and the axe is expected to fall too on some U. S. district attorneys outside Washington.

At the same time, a relatively unknown attorney—Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N. M.—was slated to take over the department's No. 2 spot succeeding A. Devitt Vanech as deputy attorney general.

Vanech resigned Monday to seek the Democratic nomination for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut.

Impending new changes in the department were forecast by informed sources as amounting to a virtual clean sweep of officials left over from the regime of Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath and before him, Tom Clark.

The departure of Vanech left the eighth major vacancy in the department's top echelon—starting last April 4 with the firing of McGrath at the height of President Truman's government "house cleaning" campaign. McGrath stepped down after he had first fired Newbold Morris, his special "house cleaner."

Behind much of the shake-up in the Justice Department has been the investigation launched last spring by a special house judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep.

Dems Cold To Special Session Idea Of Truman

Move Termed Futile; GOP Considers Plan Directed At Them

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading Democrats gave a cold reception today to President Truman's suggestion he might call a special session of Congress to act on new inflation controls.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate-Economic Committee, told a reporter he thinks such action at this time would be futile.

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma said he believes the government ought to watch the cost of living "like a hawk" but he indicated he doesn't think lawmakers are in the frame of mind now to return to Washington and act on a new controls law.

Republicans generally were inclined to look upon Truman's statement that he has a special session call under consideration as something of a political harassment move directed at them.

Truman told a news conference yesterday he is going to wait on developments. There were indications he may discuss this and other issues with Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, when they meet here next week. Stevenson has accepted a Truman invitation to attend a Cabinet meeting at the White House Tuesday.

One Democrat who didn't want to be quoted by name told a reporter he believes a special session might be embarrassing to Stevenson, since the latter apparently is attempting to avoid too close an identification with the Truman administration.

Republicans have made it clear they would use the forum of a special session to launch all-out attacks on the President and the Democratic nominee.

And because it is in numbers a Democratic Congress, Truman hardly could blame the lawmakers for failing to act effectively to curb the rising cost of living without putting that blame primarily on his own party rather than on the minority Republicans.

O'Mahoney said he thinks there undoubtedly is going to be some further increase in the cost of living. He added:

"But I doubt it will be of such proportions in the next three months as to make it advisable to try to do, in the middle of a presidential campaign, what can be done much more sensibly when the campaign is over and a new Congress is elected."

Lisbon Falls Short Of Its Blood Quota

LISBON—Attempts to meet the quota of blood fell short when the Pittsburgh Bloodmobile collected 101 pints of blood from Lisbon and Leetonia residents Thursday at the American Legion home in Lisbon.

Red Cross officials had expected to collect 125 pints in this the second visit of the Bloodmobile to the village. One hundred twenty-four pints were collected last June.

Many of those who gave before had to be turned down because tests showed they were not ready to give it yet. Some 200 donors had been pledged.

Mrs. Wayne Calhoun of Lisbon, Columbiana County Red Cross blood chairman, was in charge.

300,000 Men Lined Up Along Nations' Border

Greek Fire Forced Reds To Abandon Gamma Island

WASHINGTON (AP)—The spearheads of nearly 300,000 well-armed troops face each other across the Greek-Bulgarian border, where a skirmish was fought yesterday for an outpost.

Greek and Bulgarian soldiers have been mobilized along the border for years. Both sides are ready to fight.

The skirmish was over tiny Gamma Island in the Evros River which forms the border. The Greeks, who claim the island, said Bulgarians had invaded it, and opened a mortar attack to drive them back.

Reds Fled The Greeks reported the reds then fled.

United Nations observers reported to headquarters in New York that the Bulgarians did not return the Greek fire and said they saw no Bulgarians enter or leave the island. The rain of mortars and machine gun bullets lasted an hour, the report said.

Before the shooting, the U. N. observers cabled that "big forces" of both countries were drawn up on either side of the river which forms the boundary between the two countries at that southern edge of the iron curtain. They called the situation "very dangerous" and urged the Greek government to ask for U. N. intervention.

"Direct action of the U. N. may possibly save the situation," the observers' cable said.

Not Contemplating Action Alexis Kyrou, Greek U. N. delegate, told reporters Greece was not contemplating any specific action here at this time beyond a letter he sent to Acting Secretary General Shamalhare Lal yesterday.

The letter asked creation of a joint commission under U. N. supervision to settle the question of who owns the island.

Any clash between these hostile neighbors could have serious potentialities. They form one part of an uneasy line stretching from the Mediterranean to the North Sea. Behind them are the massed forces of the West and East.

But most American officials in Europe believe that a border incident would mushroom into major conflict only when the Kremlin decides on a bigger gamble than it has taken so far.

Nevertheless, the incident high-

Ike, Dulles, Nixon To Meet

To Plan Attack On Dems' Foreign Policy

DENVER (AP) — GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, his running mate and John Foster Dulles — international affairs specialist — get together today to organize a campaign attack on the Democrats' handling of foreign policy.

Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican candidate for vice president, scheduled a luncheon meeting with Dulles, chief author of the foreign policy plank of the party platform.

The conference was bringing Nixon in from the West Coast and Dulles from the East for the first intensive study of foreign policy aspects of the campaign since the GOP standard bearers were chosen.

Out of the session is likely to come a decision on the extent to which Eisenhower will strike out against the Truman administration in that field. As European defense commander until last June 1, he had a hand in development of the North Atlantic collective security program sponsored by the administration.

The general has endorsed the aims of that program, but Dulles — after the foreign policy plank had been drafted last month — reported him in complete accord with the platform's sharp criticism of many phases of the Democrats' handling of international affairs.

In the plank the Republicans charge, for example, that "the leaders of the administration in power lost the peace so dearly earned in World War II."

And the platform preamble says the administration "plunged us in war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress, and have carried on that war without will to victory."

CORN MYSTERY—This young lady with the tape measure seems a bit mystified at the plant beside her. And no wonder. It's a corn stalk growing very lustily out of a crack in the pavement on the corner of Washington and Jefferson Street near Chicago's busy Loop section.

Eisenhower has yet to say publicly whether he supports President Truman's decision which sent U. S. troops into Korea without prior approval by Congress.

The general has indicated, however, that he is ready to let fly at administration policy toward the Far East. In that field, the GOP platform gives him much ammunition.

Yesterday, Eisenhower spoke out again appeals to prejudice and bigotry in political campaign. He said

"those are the tactics of the Communists."

The general set forth his views in a statement expressing wholehearted approval of a resolution calling on all Republican candidates for public office to reject such appeals as a move to "subvert the American tradition."

The resolution was adopted by the Minnesota GOP State Executive Committee.

In other developments:

1. The general received pledges of support from two party leaders who backed Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination. Gov. Len B. Jordan, national committeeman from Utah said after conferring with Eisenhower that they gave him encouraging reports regarding his prospects in their states. Hansen said he believes Taft would have been a stronger candidate in Utah, but added that the Republicans in the state are "accommodating themselves with very little difficulty to Eisenhower."

2. Miss Bertha Adkins, national committeewoman from Maryland, said she told the general much work is being done to get out the women's vote in November. She said it will be more important than ever before because more women than men are eligible to vote.

Stevenson Rapped For Hiss Defense

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin last night attacked the Democratic presidential candidate for "defending" Alger Hiss and called upon Republicans to make the matter a campaign issue.

The Maryland governor also charged that Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson's reluctance to accept the nomination was part of a "Fair Deal deception."

In 1949 Stevenson was called upon to testify as to the character of Alger Hiss. He signed a deposition stating that as far as he knew the former State Department official had a good reputation.

Hiss is serving a five-year prison term for perjury in denying that he gave any government information to Whittaker Chambers, one-time Communist courier.

The Doctor Answers

Some of the strangest rumors get around and when they are false, as rumors often are, they can cause a great deal of trouble.

Q.—I am 56 years old and recently had a double hernia operation. A fellow workers said he also has a hernia, but refuses to have an operation because he says that a government bulletin reveals that only 29 out of 1000 operations on men over 40 for hernia are successful. What is your comment?

A.—I have not seen the bulletin which is quoted, but should hazard a guess that the figures may be reversed: 29 out of 1000 are not permanently successful. The later would come much closer to the truth.

In any event, the best treatment for a person with a severe hernia is an operation, and the chances are very good that the operation will be successful.

Q.—Is it true that drinking heated left-over coffee invites hardening of the arteries?—Mrs. R.W.H.

A.—There is no reason to believe that it does.

Q.—If a person has been working in a damp place for 10 years and gets rheumatoid arthritis, and doctors can find no other cause, could such a person claim benefits from the compensation board?

Reader.—A.—This is a question for Solomon. It would have to be ruled by the compensation board and since the cause of rheumatoid arthritis is not known, it will be a difficult question for them to decide.

Q.—What signs are most likely to develop from chronic poisoning with caffeine?—Mrs. A.M.F.

A.—Probably the most common symptoms of chronic caffeine poisoning consists of nervousness, irritability, slight digestive disturbance.

Medina County Fair
Cancelled Due To Polio

MEDINA, O. (AP)—Because there have been 69 reported polio cases in the county, Medina County's fair will not be held this year—the first cancellation in the 107-year history of the event. Within the past two weeks two nearby counties, Wayne and Holmes also have cancelled fairs because of the infantile paralysis outbreak.

Czech Stars
In Olympics
May See U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman believes the amazing husband-wife team from behind the Iron Curtain that won top Olympic honors may help win the peace by visiting the United States.

As a result, Czechoslovakians Emil Zatopek, winner of the marathon, the 5,000 and 10,000 meter races, and his wife Ingrida who won the javelin throw at the Helsinki, Finland, Olympics recently, may be invited to tour America.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer originated the idea and yesterday won Truman's okay.

Sawyer then wrote Avery Brundage, president of the Olympic association, urging that Brundage in his official capacity as head of the Olympics organization issue the formal invitation.

Acceptance of such an invitation by the Zatopeks would hinge on approval by the Communist Czech government.

Sawyer, a rabid sports fan, was enthusiastic over the whole thing, from both diplomatic and sports angles. He wrote Brundage: "If you could lift the Iron Curtain enough to bring this man and his wife over here it might be the beginning of a happy new program for mankind, it might be the first step toward a permanent peace."

"If the Communist and non-Communist countries are ever to live in a peaceful world, some method of raising the Iron Curtain must be devised. It might be easier to begin to work it out in the area of sport."

Sawyer said Americans would like to get a good look at the Zatopeks, whom he praised highly. He also said it would be good for them to get a look at the U. S., about which they may have "some great misconceptions."

Salem, OhioDrought Broken, Government
Moves To Assist Farmers

By The Associated Press

The billion dollar drought in New England and the South appeared broken today and government agencies moved swiftly to get weather-harassed farmers back into production.

The immediate goals:

1. To get feed to hungry livestock on burned out pastures and prevent premature slaughtering.

2. To get fall planting started.

The Agriculture Department ordered a survey of excess hay supplies in the Midwest. It directed chairmen of state agricultural mobilization committees from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois to look into the possibility of obtaining hay in those states.

And the Farmers Home Administration worked out a plan to speed government loans to hard-pressed farmers in the drought belts. These loans will be used for seed and feed.

Farmers looked hopefully to possibly good fall crops to help them recoup some of their drought losses.

With New England getting rain for the third straight day, Louis A. Webster Massachusetts market specialist, said yesterday at Boston:

"There is every indication now that we will have good fall crops." But meanwhile, the consumer was beginning to feel the effects of the drought.

At a meeting of the Georgia milk control board at Atlanta, milk prices were boosted 2 cents a quart to a maximum of 27 cents.

One cent of the increase effective Sept. 1 was to cover a normal increase in operating costs, but the other was to compensate farmers for drought losses and help them carry herds through the winter.

A sharp increase in produce prices has been noted in some places.

For Better City Operations

One recommendation of the Pittsburgh firm which made the job evaluation survey for the City of Salem probably should merit the serious consideration of City Council.

That is the suggestion that two new municipal positions be considered, namely, a director of public health and safety; and a director of operations.

Edwards & Barnes, the Pittsburgh firm of management engineers which carried out City Council's request for an evaluation program of the non-elective city jobs, points out that the creation of such two offices would help to attain the goal of closer integration of all municipal functions.

Under such an arrangement the director of public health and safety would be responsible for the activities of the police, fire and health departments. The director of operations would direct all other city functions, including water and engineering. Both directors would report to the mayor.

At the present time, the Edwards & Barnes report points out that the city government, while directed by Council, appears to be divided into two main groups: Those departments which are governed by commissions and those which are actively directed by the mayor.

"The park, health and water commissions are comprised of unpaid private citizens who frequently have no knowledge of the workings of other departments and consequently could not assess the impact of a decision reached in their particular department upon another," the report goes on. "On the other hand, the mayor is not kept advised of the actions of the appointed commissions."

In the opinion of the survey engineers, the present commissions and board of health should advise the mayor and not the individual department heads of contemplated courses of action in their particular departments.

"Part-time jobs as separate entities may appear as an economical method of securing specialized services," the report continues. "but when part-time jobs are examined as a group the economies appear questionable. It is recommended that part-time jobs be held to a minimum and present city employees examined for skills needed prior to the establishment of any part-time jobs."

In the category of other suggested improvements, the job evaluators urge that the city examine the possibility of the county assuming the responsibility of the humane officer and relief director. Few cities comparable to Salem pay for a humane officer. Salem's relief directorship was created when the relief load was heavy, but despite better conditions the job has never been abolished.

Council is to be praised for its work which helped the management engineers compile a report which can be of considerable help to Salem now and in the future. The councilmen often work long hours, with rarely a vote of appreciation from their constituents.

Finance Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich, a veteran in council, deserves particular praise for his efforts.

All Others Would Follow

Gen. Eisenhower made 10 points in his first official campaign speech. One of the points overshadowed all the others. If it were put into effect, all the others would follow. This is it:

Serve the worthy interest of every group of our people, yet make the test of each policy: Is it good for America?

We are not concerned because a small crowd showed up for Gen. Eisenhower's address to the Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment at Los Angeles last Tuesday night. We are concerned only in how many Americans show up at the polls next November in response to Gen. Eisenhower's political appeal.

Nothing he could stress in his campaign would pack more wallop than a promise of equal consideration for all Americans who act in good faith.

Millions of the general's countrymen are fed to the teeth with cynicism, special favors and pet priorities.

They are tired of people who fit into and out of the White House by special appointment and of the inability of equally worthy and sometimes worthier people to get into the White House at all.

They are sick of the policy of clearing things with Sidney, John, Phil or whoever happens to hold the whip hand at the moment.

They are sore about the doctrine that everything must be geared to partisan politics. Their ears are tired of name-calling, their hearts are weary of feuds and their minds are uneasy about the steady decline of confidence in a government which deliberately sets class against class and plants the seeds of suspicion in its citizenry.

Everybody and his brother would like to tell Gen. Eisenhower how to run his campaign. He could do worse than to hammer from now until his last campaign speech on the theme that he would be a president of all the people—not just the people grinding the same political ax.

Anti-Red Oath

"Staff Report" Shows Justice Dept. Errs

WASHINGTON

From one end of the country to the other the newspapers published a few days ago dispatches implying that the senate subcommittee on labor had issued a report favoring the abolition of the non-communist affidavits for labor-union officers which are required by existing law.

But a close examination of the document reveals that the senate subcommittee itself hasn't made any such recommendation and that the proposal is embodied in an official-looking document entitled "staff report" which, in very small type at the bottom of one of the introductory pages, reveals the fact that it is the work of one individual—Jack Barbash, who is referred to as "staff director of the subcommittee on labor."

MR. BARBASH approaches the subject of non-communist affidavits from the standpoint of convenience of procedure in the National Labor Relations Board. He says that the filing of these affidavits is an obstacle to speedy handling of routine. He then writes this amazing statement:

"It must be candidly recognized that at this stage, the non-communist affidavit is serving no practical purpose. Well-known communist party liners have no difficulty in signing affidavits that they are not Communists."

What's the matter with the Department of Justice? Can a man make a false oath if he is an officer of a labor union and escape prosecution? If the National Labor Relations Board members have knowledge that anyone who signs an oath saying he isn't a Communist is really a Communist, then it is their duty to turn the facts over to the U. S. attorneys and the federal grand juries wherever the union officers reside. The "Staff Report" adds:

"Whatever else may be attributed to the anti-communist affidavit, it has not prevented unions controlled by followers of the Communist party line from using the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board."

WHO IS responsible for this? The purpose of the non-communist affidavit was to bring about full disclosure and then action. If the National Labor Relations Board is ignoring the facts and is not taking cognizance of the frauds being perpetrated against it, then some other agency of the government—presumably the Department of Justice—is obligated to find out how "unions controlled by followers of the Communist Party" are conspiring to violate the laws of the United States.

For a union to set up dummy officers who do not actually administer the affairs of those unions is to invite prosecution in much the same way as anybody who controls a corporation can be punished if, in laws requiring disclosure of true ownership or control, for example, there is any evasion practiced.

The "staff report" says that "a labor-saving approach to the problem of barring the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board to unions with Communist officers is to amend the law to waive the affidavit requirement for those labor organizations that certify that their constitution or by-laws bar Communists as defined, from holding any office in the organization, the waiver to be effective so long as this constitution remains and is enforced."

"This proposal is not offered as a certain way of dealing with the problem of Communist-dominated labor unions. The proposal does purport to be a way of maintaining at least as much control over the use of board procedures by communists as there is now, and at the same time cutting down on the cumbersome clerical tasks imposed on the board and on the overwhelming number of unions free from Communist influence."

IF A UNION doesn't have Communist officers, it shouldn't take but a minute or two for the officers to sign and file the proper affidavits. Since unions resent the one-sided requirement, the law can be amended to provide that employers as well as individual employees are not members of the Communist party or any organization which has for its object the overthrow of the American form of government by violence.

The value of the non-communist affidavit is that it permits the government to catch up with perjurers and other conspirators. To leave it to the unions to enforce would subject them to suits for slander or libel and threats by communists which they could not meet as well as the Department of Justice can, though the "staff report" would seem to indicate that the department is asleep because numerous affidavits apparently are signed with false oaths. It is a charge of incompetence against the department which the "staff report" of the senate subcommittee on labor unwittingly brings to public attention.

Spare No Expense

By TRUMAN TWILL

First thing I'd tell Adlai Stevenson to do if he asked me would be to buy up all those pictures of himself in shorts with a tennis racket in his hand and destroy them. I would urge him, if he intends to take himself seriously as a presidential candidate, to issue a ringing denial of the picture and all it implies. He could claim it was taken when he was a prematurely bald child and did not know what he was doing. He could claim he had been doped and duped by unscrupulous enemies, forced to put on shorts and hold a tennis racket while his picture was being taken.

How he escaped would be inconsequential, immaterial and irrelevant. What matters is that the governor of Illinois, if he wants to go higher in politics, cannot afford to let the word get around among the bully boys who must do down the line to make his candidacy tick that he plays tennis.

This is still, at heart, a nation of frontiersmen and roughs. Tennis does not fit in with the great American tradition of terbaccer juice, raw whisky, poker with cronies and bourbon and branch-water.

It clashes with the legend of pioneer heronines standing off five dozen wild Indians with muskets after the menfolk got ambushed in the woods. It never will take the place of the turkey shoot, hill-billy feudin' and fussin' and bullets being spewed out of tommy guns in the nerveless hands of Chicago assassins.

The American people finally have learned to think of golf without tittering, because it is a game played with clubs to the accompaniment of fervent cursing, laughing and even, on occasions, tipping. But tennis simply will not do for presidential aspirants.

The very idea of the game, which is to bat a ball back and forth, the costume, which is fussy and the lingo, which is polite, do not belong in the American way of life. Moreover, tennis is a game in which the spectators do not boo when the players do something stupid, and booing is one of the inalienable American rights.

If Adlai Stevenson must have exercise, let him look for it in one of the acceptable forms familiar to presidential aspirants and even to presidents.

Let him take up golf, preferably in the high nineties. Let him buy an electric horse and sit upon it gravely while the contraption rattles his teeth; that was Calvin Coolidge's pucky compromise with the requirement that presidential-type Americans should stimulate their bodies.

He could do fly-casting in a high, hard collar and the coat to his Sunday suit, like Herbert Hoover. He could go walking with a cane and a retinue of attendants, like Harry Truman. He could go swimming, like Franklin Roosevelt. But, sir, if you seek your fun in shorts and a tennis racket, you will not make the grade. The non-tennis-playing masses will smite you.

Why not take up bowling, pool-shooting, horseshoe pitching, or rabbit-hunting while there is still time—and while there is still hope?

Gee Whiz! You'd Think He'd Never Seen A Scrap!

The Rights Of The Defense

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

So-called liberals reject the right of our government to defend itself against those who oppose its existence, except against armed force. A government is not a mechanical instrument that is brought into existence to serve some necessary social and political functions. It is not a mere expression of majority rule.

Pope Pius XII once put it this way: "The people lives and moves by its own life energy; the masses are inert of themselves and can only be moved from outside. The people lives by the fullness of life in the men that compose it, each of whom—in his proper place and in his own way—is a person conscious of his own responsibility and of his own views."

The masses, on the contrary, waiting for the impulse from outside, become an easy plaything in the hands of anyone who seeks to exploit their instincts and impressions. . . .

A GOVERNMENT represents the traditions, the ideals, the hopes, the aspirations of a people. A proud people seeks to defend itself against every force, every power that aims to destroy it. A proud people never dies. Such small nations as the Jews, the Armenians, the Syrians, the Kashmiri, the Finns do not die, because they have a tradition of life.

All the forces in our land that seek to destroy the character of our nation and our government, that would submerge us into a mass of nations indistinguishable from all others, need to be resisted. In a series of investigations by the House committee on Un-American Activities, the McCarran committee, by grand juries, in trials such as that of Alger Hiss and Harry Bridges, we have begun to discover a design for the perversion of our country not by an outside enemy but by our own children, misguided, misled, frightened by the era of war in which they live.

Another investigative agency has been probing deeply into this problem. It is the "Subversive Activities Control Board," an agency of the executive branch of the government. This agency has been investigating the communist party itself and in the course of its inquiry questions were asked of John Gates, a high official of the communist party, now imprisoned. The colloquy which follows is of more than casual interest:

"Q. Suppose you communists were successful and established your system in this country, what measures would you take against those who would destroy your government by force and violence?"

"Marcantonio: I object. Pretty soon he will be asking him the difference between two blades of grass. . . ."

"Chairman Brown: Objection overruled."

"Gates: That can only be established by a majority. The communist party would be part of that majority and in the leadership, I hope. Such a government would have every right to defend itself against any attempt to destroy it by force and violence."

Gates is quite correct. If his party came into power, it would naturally defend itself from any attempt to destroy it by force and violence. That is precisely what all the investigative agencies, public and private, are doing now; they are defending the right of their nation and government to exist.

THERE ARE SOME who deny to citizens the right to organize to safeguard their country. They say that that is an exclusive function of the government. It is possible to believe that citizens may organize to destroy their country but that none may organize to defend their country? The right of our people to organize is inviolable and that right becomes a virtue when its object is to preserve our traditional forms of life.

Gates was asked whether he could give one instance in which the Daily Worker, of which he was editor, supported this government in opposition to the Soviet Union.

"A. I can't think of any such instance because in my opinion the Soviet Union has never put forward policies in any way contrary to the interests of the American people, and that is our sole standard."

This one answer explains everything. He denies the validity of all that his own government has said on this subject and accepts as gospel truth all that Soviet Russia has said on the subject.

The liberals stand between the patriots and those enslaved to a foreign foe. They try to see both sides with a frigid objectivity. Yet, unless they fervently believe in America, they are strengthening roaders pave the way for those its enemies. The middle-of-the who plan America's destruction.

Farm Vote In 1952

By RICHARD SPONG

As demonstrated by the platforms adopted at Chicago, both major parties are making a determined bid for the farm vote in 1952.

Ten midwest farm states—the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana—have a combined electoral vote of 108. The Democrats can win with only a minority of these states as they proved in 1944 (Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri and 1940 (the three above, plus Wisconsin).

Of the 10, the eastern segment tends to go Democratic; the western, Republican.

The Republican platform calls for a farm program "aimed at full parity for all farm products in the market place." Also: "Commodity loans on all non-perishable products supported at the level necessary to maintain a balanced production." The GOP program defends the "long-range farm price support program" worked out by the 80th Congress.

The Democrats, on the other hand, have abandoned their 1948 endorsement of a sliding scale for price supports. What they favor now is "a mandatory price-support program at not less than 90 per cent of parity."

They advocate extending price supports to "other storable and to the producers of perishable commodities."

The Republican platform devotes considerable space to condemning the Brannan plan "which aims to control the farmer and to socialize agriculture." Describing the Brannan plan as "a scheme to pay direct subsidies from the Federal Treasury in lieu of prices to producers," the Republicans call it "a fraud on both the farmer and the consumer." The Democratic platform makes no mention of the Brannan plan.

The Republicans made a clean sweep of these 10 farm states in 1928, with a solid block of 128 electoral votes. F. D. Roosevelt got 112 electoral votes by winning all 10 states in 1932 and 1936.

Willkie carried the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, and Indiana in 1940, but they gave him only 49 electoral votes, as against the 67 Roosevelt got from the four other farm states. In 1944, Roosevelt carried only Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri, but they gave him 54 electoral votes, as against 57 the Republicans got from the seven other farm-belt states.

Half of the farm-belt states—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois—went for Harry S. Truman in 1948. The farm belt gave Truman 76 electoral votes; Dewey, 35.

In some of the farm-belt states, big cities pile up the Democratic vote. Truman carried Illinois in 1948, but without Cook County (Chicago) he would have lost the state by 166,000 votes. The same is true of Wisconsin, where in 1948 Milwaukee and Dane (Madison) counties gave the Democrats the margin of victory.

In some states, however, farm and city voted alike. Truman would have won Missouri by more than 100,000 votes in 1948 without the heavy Democratic vote in St. Louis City and Jackson and Clay counties (Kansas City). The Democratic plurality in Minnesota would have been close to 140,000 without the votes of Hennepin and Ramsey counties (Minneapolis and St. Paul).

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Chin Up, Mom

DEAR HOMEFRONT:

Well, the news from back home is just about breaking my heart. The summer has been hot and dry, you say, vacation traffic congestion has been very annoying, fishing has been bad, there is a shortage of big juicy tenderloin steaks for less than $5 in the better restaurants, Tommy Manville still can't find the right wife and General MacArthur has been forced to go to work for $100,000 a year with a typewriter company on account of he can't find regular employment with the Army. It makes a G.I. over here in the Korean hills feel awful low.

On top of all this I hear you're going through a frightful ordeal of nightly visits from flying saucers which do not do no damage to anybody and go away fast without creating any disturbance, leaving everybody guessing. Me and the boys are all busted up over what is being asked of you.

One of my buddies just got a letter saying Frankie Costello may yet have to go to jail as he has nearly run out of appeals, that bar glasses are smaller this season, that there is no imported champagne on the market back home and that Rocky Marciano may not be able to get more than $150,000 for fighting Joe Walcott. Sergeant Mooney just got a newspaper clipping which tells of a possible peach blight, a poor summer season for musical comedies, a rise in the price of top-grade strawberries, with cream, a proposed increase of 10 cents in the cost of a haircut and a lot of trouble getting waterfront rooms at the beach hotels. He broke down completely.

WE HAD TO SEND quite a few of my buddies back of the lines to rest camps this week on account of they had got newspapers from home telling them that the size of quiz-program jackpots had been cut on some programs, that the price of a $4,000 auto may be jacked up another $85, that people who bought Cadillacs a year ago with the silver "V" in front are all upset because the new ones have a gold "V," and that a lot of people who get only $85 a week and have to work six to eight hours, five days a week are unhappy about it and may have to quit work and strike in order to get a better break. (We kept from these boys the sad news that the old 5-cent glass of beer has disappeared forever, that a lot of shoddy ham-mocks are reported on the market and that for the next 12 weeks many Americans will have to worry over an election.)

Well, my heart goes out to you and I can only urge you to have courage and be patient. Into each life some rain must fall. This is a time for sacrifice. Me? Oh, I'm okay. I am just in a lousy war sitting out all the troubles you are going through at home and hoping you can endure them a little longer. If you need blood let me know.

Love and kisses,
Emil.

Labor Day Kickoff Set

Stevenson To Open Campaign In Detroit

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson was reported ready today to kick off his presidential campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit followed by a swing into the South to hold the Dixie vote in line for the Democratic ticket.

This appeared to be the itinerary shaping up in the campaign headquarters directed by Wilson W. Wyatt of Louisville, Ky.

This morning Stevenson put aside his work temporarily to attend ceremonies formally opening the annual Illinois State Fair.

The fair grounds itself will become something of a political battleground next week when speeches will be made by Stevenson, Vice President Alben Barkley and the GOP vice presidential candidate, Sen. Richard Nixon of California. Nixon is scheduled to speak on Wednesday and Stevenson and Barkley on Thursday.

The Illinois governor will have a chance next Tuesday to discuss his campaign plans with President Truman in Washington.

He will fly to the capital Tuesday morning, meet with the President and his Cabinet, and then return here in the evening. Truman said yesterday the meeting was arranged at Stevenson's request.

Stevenson has not yet disclosed just what he wishes to discuss with Truman and others on the Washington trip. Presumably it will deal with the campaign strategy and co-ordination of Stevenson's own plans with those of Truman.

The tentative decision to open the campaign in Detroit, it was said, came after young Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan invited Stevenson to make a Labor Day speech in the motor city.

It is known that Stevenson intends to make a strong bid for labor's support and Detroit is one of the strongholds of the CIO.

Four years ago President Truman formally opened his campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit. Stevenson may take comfort from the fact that the President went on from there to win the November election.

One of Stevenson's major problems in the next few days will be to complete the organization which will help him in his campaign.

The top item on this list will be to name a new Democratic national chairman to succeed Frank E. McKinney of Indianapolis who is reported on his way out.

"No Smear" Campaign For Stevenson Is Promised

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "no-smear" campaign in behalf of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois was promised today by Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma.

Monroney—named by Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, to head the party's Speakers' Bureau—told a reporter:

"We intend to present our case for Stevenson, and other Democratic candidates, clearly, concisely and honestly, without demagoguery or smear and without personal attack."

"We think we have a case and if we can reach the people with it, we'll make victory certain in November."

As far as he is concerned, Monroney said he doesn't intend to take Democratic victory for granted in any part of the country, including the South.

He said he will make use of every available Democrat in assigning speakers and will lay particular emphasis on radio and television time.

Monroney indicated he thinks the Democrats ought to "bear down" on states where he said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, has "albatross senators hanging around his neck."

He listed Wisconsin, with Sen. Joseph McCarthy; Indiana, with Sen. William Jenner; Ohio, with Sen. John Bricker, and Missouri, with Sen. James P. Kem. In these states, he said, GOP senators running for re-election fail to share Eisenhower's major policy views.

Stevenson's choice of the youthful Monroney to head the party Speakers' Bureau lent weight to reports the nominee is searching also for a "new face" for the chairmanship of the national committee.

Among those mentioned in this category are National Committeeman Paul M. Butler of Indiana and State Chairmen John Bailey of Connecticut and James Doyle of Wisconsin.

Former Sen. Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania was "out of the running," according to word from Stevenson's headquarters.

Frank E. McKinney, present chairman, is due in Springfield, Ill., for conferences with Stevenson Saturday amid reports that his successor may be named the following day.

Barbara Nichols was the only member of Troop 3 present. Troop 15 is the only local troop other than Troop 3 represented. Leaders of Troop 15 are Mrs. Joseph Greenwood and Mrs. Joseph Pasco.

Troop 3 leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Bond Nichols, Mrs. O. S. Flick and Mrs. Clarence Christian.

Ohio GOP, Dems Differ On How To Deal With Red Menace

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Republican and Democratic state platforms reflected the difference in party aims for dealing with the Communist menace.

Both agreed on the deadly designs of Russia and her Communist agents on the American people and government. And both abhorred those designs.

The Republican platform included a plank promising active effort to root out Communism at home and cooperation with foes of the Reds abroad. The Democratic platform omitted such a plank.

The Democrats instead dealt with Communism in their platform preamble. They promised to support a unified national effort against Communism and said:

"At the same time we condemn attacks made from behind the shield of legislative immunity upon the character, loyalty and motives of persons who have no effective remedy for defamation from such a source."

On the state level, that meant the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission currently investigating Buckeye communism at the legislature's behest. Majority Republicans pushed the inquiry through the legislature despite Democratic opposition.

The Republican plank reads: "The Communist Party stands for the ultimate violent overthrow of our state and national governments. Communists have infiltrated defense industries in Ohio and their presence constitutes a menace to the internal security of our country.

"We pledge ourselves to do our part in the world-wide struggle of free men against the menace of Communist aggression and infiltration. We also pledge our continued cooperation and support of those state and federal agencies in exposing Communists and defeating their aims."

The state agency is the Un-American Activities Commission that so far has cited 11 witnesses for contempt for refusing to say whether they were Communists.

The Democratic platform preamble reads:

"The Democratic Party of the State of Ohio... rededicates itself to relentless and uncompromising opposition to the forces of Communism and all other un-American ideologies."

"We reaffirm our full support of unified national effort against our country's enemies and pledge ourselves to resist to the death the aggressors against peace of the world and the dignity of man."

Condemnation of attacks "from behind the shield of legislative immunity" followed.

Four of the witnesses cited by the commission are under grand jury indictment for contempt of a legislative committee. The cases of four others have been turned over to the Franklin County prosecutor for grand jury action.

Commission counsel said the others, involving instructors at Ohio State University, will go to be prosecuted for similar action.

The commission still plans hearings in Cincinnati and Cleveland. Witnesses sought for the hearings disappeared before they could be subpoenaed. Other hearings may be held in Akron, Youngstown and other industrial centers.

Papers, Radio To Join Civil Defense In Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspapers and radio stations in four cities in the Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Ontario, Canada, area, have signed an agreement whereby their newspaper and radio plants automatically will become parts of the civil defense organization in the event of an attack.

The international agreement, the first of its kind, was announced Wednesday by Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner, New York state director of civil defense. It went into effect July 31.

The contract involves the United States cities of Lockport, North Tonawanda and Niagara Falls and the counties of Niagara, Orleans and Genesee. Participating in Canada are two counties of the province of Ontario and the City of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Newspapers participating in the agreement are the Niagara Falls, N. Y., Gazette; the Lockport Union Sun and Journal; the Evening News of the Tonawandas, North Tonawanda; and the Niagara Falls, Ont. Evening Review. The radio stations are WHLD, WHLD-FM and WJLL, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; WUSJ and WUSJ-FM, Lockport, N. Y.

'Raydac' Is New 'Brain'—

Destined to aid in guided-missile research at the Navy Air Missile Test Center in Point Mugu, Calif., is a new electronic brain just completed at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Waltham, Mass., laboratories of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co. Diagram above shows how the thinking machine keeps track of a guided missile (1) by picking up radio-signals with receiving stations (2). Double check on speed and course is kept by radar tracking-equipment (3) which sends data through microwave-links (4) to recording instruments (5) where it is stored until fed into computer (6) for breakdown by the Raytheon Digital Automatic Computer, nicknamed RAYDAC. Console of the calculator is seen below. Solving problems in a few minutes which would take human teams 20 to 30 days, RAYDAC's 15 control panels are 44 feet long. The machine is capable of 1900 additions or subtractions, 1400 multiplications, 1100 divisions, has 500 radio tubes or enough to build 1000 home radios.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

By REILMAN MORIN
(For HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you feel if you were in a crowded bus with some loose cobras?

That happened to some people in India the other day. The Bombay office of The Associated Press reported a snakecharmer went aboard, carrying the cobras in baskets. The bus jolted over a pothole in the road. The baskets sprung open.

When one of the cobras reached the driver's compartment, the driver panicked and lost control. So he said, afterward. There was a serious accident.

In a way, this is the other half of a Kipling story . . .

One night in India a British officer and his wife gave a small dinner party. It was during the war, and so there was some talk of the fighting and the bombing of British cities, and whatnot. And then one of the ladies tripped the trigger on a lovely argument.

"This war has proved one thing," she said, "women are just as brave as men in an emergency, and perhaps braver."

The men were indulgent. They conceded women in the services had often displayed extraordinary courage. But they pointed out also that women will jump on a chair and scream in the presence of a mouse.

The argument was swirling, and nobody noticed when the hostess quietly signalled one of the Indian servants.

He bent over her shoulder. She whispered something. He hurried out of the room.

A moment later, he reappeared, holding a bowl of milk. He set the bowl on the floor in a far corner of the room.

Suddenly, a cobra slithered out from beneath the table, heading for the milk. There were screams, quick exits, and the confusion was immense when the other guests saw it. The servant quickly destroyed the snake.

Later they asked the hostess how she knew the cobra was in the room. Did she see it? When?

"I didn't see it," she replied, "but I felt it . . . it was coiled around my ankle."

This tended to chill the argument about men and women and what they do in the presence of danger.

But about the cobras . . . there are almost as many tales of their strange ways as there are snakes.

The king cobra is aggressive, and presumably, will always attack; the other types only defend themselves. Yet, some of the Indians claim that not even the big king will harm a small child. They believe a snake reacts, through some sixth sense, to the loathing and dread that arises, on sight, in most adults.

And they think this is an acquired feeling, something you have to learn. Since a baby does not know enough to be afraid, he may be perfectly safe—even with a cobra.

Preston Grover, who headed the AP office in India for a number of years, was a witness to one of these incidents.

He was visiting an Indian family. The child, in a high chair on the lawn was eating a bowl of bread and milk. Cobras like milk, and apparently they will smell it from considerable distances.

Grover, horrified saw the snake, just as it was crawling up the side of the chair. It crossed the baby's lap, and came onto the apron of the high chair. Then it began drinking the milk.

With a clumsy gesture, the baby banged it over the head with the spoon.

"We expected the cobra to strike," he said, "but the baby upset the bowl, and the snake simply dropped onto the grass and went on looking for milk down there."

It was only when they approached to kill it, he said, that the hood went up and it coiled to strike.

So, in case you are ever on a crowded bus with a loose cobra, either open a bottle of the best homogenized, or pretend not to notice.

$3.50 - $4 Price On Early Peaches Seen

Prices of $3.50 to $4 per bushel for early peaches was the estimate given by the Five-County Fruit Marketing Committee after a discussion of crop prospects Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

The drought has hurt the peach crop in other parts of the nation while the outlook for the Salem district is very good, the committee said.

About 15 growers from Columbiana, Mahoning, Stark, Portage, and Carroll counties attended the meeting. Harvesting of the local peach crop is expected to begin in two weeks. The Ohio State Employment Service is recruiting workers to help with the harvest.

Diseased Hogs May Be Killed At U.S. Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today proposed a 15 - state hog slaughter program to stop an outbreak of a relatively new swine disease—vesicular exanthema.

Under the program owners would be paid for the loss of hogs which were destroyed. The federal government would bear half the cost and the participating states half.

There is, however, no provision for giving financial aid to farmers who have already lost money as a result of the outbreak.

The states invited to participate in the program are Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

This represents all the states with the exception of California, where the disease has been discovered.

The Agriculture Department's Bureau of Animal Industry proposed the program. Asked why California was not included, officials said the state has some "preliminary cleanup work" to do before being in a position to join in it.

Vesicular exanthema has been known in California for about 20 years but only recently has been discovered in the 15 other states.

New Polio Cases During Week Highest For Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today reported 2,290 new cases of infantile paralysis last week, the highest weekly total so far this year.

The Public Health Service listed the year's total through Aug. 2 at 10,697 cases. That compared with 10,719 in the record year 1949 and 6,838 last year up to this time.

For the "disease year," which began with the week ended April 5, the total was 9,377 cases, compared with 9,714 in the same period of 1949 and 5,640 for the 1951 period.

The sabbath is strictly kept on the Isle of Skye in the Hebrides. Residents can attend two church services in succession, one in English and the other in Gaelic.

Sharp Note Is 27th Hambletonian Winner

74-Year-Old Vet Drives Winner

$1,000 Colt Is Owned By Tool, Die Maker

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—Sharp Note played a sweet $47,236 tune in the 27th Hambletonian Stake, and his daddy — Phonograph — isn't a failure as a sire after all.

The bay three-year old son of Phonograph copped the $37,637 trotting derby at Good Time Park yesterday, doing the job in two straight heats after Hit Song won the first dash.

Sharp Note is owned by C. W. Clark, Dearborn, Mich., tool and die maker, who got the colt as a yearling from the Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Ky., for $1,000. A year ago this month, Phonograph was discarded as a failure in the stud. He was bought for a reported $10,000 by Charles Gorman of the Riverview Farm, Marcy, N. Y.

Bi Shively, 74, a veteran of the Spanish American War who served in The Philippines drove the winner — his first Hambletonian victory in three tries. In doing so, he became the oldest driver to win one.

Sharp Note, whose dam is Rosemary Hanover by Guy McKinney, broke stride at the start of the opening heat, and finished 10th as Hit Song won in 2:05 on a track sticky by rains of Wednesday. In fact, the day's racing program was an hour and a half late in getting underway as workers with trucks and scrapers got mud off the track. It was well after supper time before Sharp Note finished his job.

He started to do it in the second heat, when he took command in the stretch and bounced home a length winner over the disappointing Duke of Lullwater. The Duke, pre-race favorite owned by Walter T. Candler of Decatur, Ga., had been second in the first heat, too. Time of this mile was 2:02 3-5, excellent considering the track was not at its best.

Then came the deciding heat. The crowd of some 15,000 had made the Duke favorite in the first two heats, but they switched to Sharp Note's bandwagon for the finale.

Sharp Note didn't disappoint them. He permitted Lu Peck, one of two fillies in the field of 16, to set the pace for a time. Then as the field rounded the bend for home Shively let his horse go, and Sharp Note flew to the wire a couple of good lengths ahead of Hit Song, with Duke of Lullwater third. Time for the final heat was 2:02 2-5.

North, South Squads Drill For All-Star Game

AKRON, O. (AP)—Because of the soap box derby, the North and South squads will move to Kent State University for Saturday's drills in preparation for the annual scholastic All-Star football game in the Rubber Bowl Aug. 16.

The South squad lost Al Borders and tackle Harry Miller Thursday when those two Cincinnati boys were injured. End Bill Gillon of Steubenville was added to the squad for Borders, but officials still are seeking a replacement for Miller.

North Coach Chick Riffle employed this offensive lineup in Thursday's scrimmage: Bruce Breener of Massillon and Jim Holzmiller of Sandusky, ends; Barto Pignatelli of Akron and George Nicula of Warren, tackles; Bob Whetstone of Barberton and Bob Cummings of Youngstown, guards; Don Morris of Elyria, center; Lou Baldacci of Akron, quarterback; Dave Burnham and Bob Arnold of Canton, halfbacks; and Dave Rogers of Warren, fullback.

Mark-Ye-Well Favored In American Derby

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight thoroughbreds, with Mark-Ye-Well an even money favorite, were slated to go to the post Saturday for the 42nd renewal of the $128,000 American Derby at Washington Park.

First place in the mile and one-eighth run for 3-year-olds will be worth $103,325 with $25,000 going to the show horse.

The combination of Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well and Eddie Arcaro will be opposed by at least two other horses with enough speed and stamina to bring about an upset.

King Ranch's High Scud whipped the Mark in the classic prep at Arlington for his second defeat in seven races.

Dixiana's Sub Fleet will be trying to get even with Mark for his defeat in the recent Arlington Classic.

Scouts Desire Games With Little Leaguers

Boy Scout troops from Steubenville are spending next week at Dunn Eden Lake and desire games with Little League teams of Salem.

The troop was a member of the Steubenville Little League this season and wish to have the games while camping. Games with teenage boys of 13 and 15-years-old also are desired.

Arrangements can be made with Don Rarey, scoutmaster, at Dunn Eden Lake.

Layne Predicts Knockout Over Ezzard Charles

OGDEN Utah (AP)—Youthful heavyweight Rex Layne said today he is going after Ezzard Charles in their 10-round bout tonight like he was fighting for the title.

"I'm going to knock him out," Layne said, "and I'll be after him all the way." But the 24-year-old Lewiston, Utah, strongboy said he'd rather not predict the round.

But Charles and his handlers had a different version of the outcome. "Ezzy is ready for Rex," Jake Mintz, Charles' co-manager announced. "If he should lose this one, he's about through. But a victory tonight will put him back in the picture."

Although both Layne and Charles have beaten Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott, the fistic reputation of each is sagging badly.

Boxing writers who saw Charles fight Walcott in June say the Tiger of Cincinnati may have lost his stomach for fighting. And Layne, once hailed as a coming champ, has been beaten by Rocky Marciano, Charles and Harry Matthews in the past year.

Six Entrants Qualify For Gold Cup Race

SEATTLE (AP)—For the second year in a row Miss Pepsi, the twin engined giantess from Detroit, shattered the qualifying record as all six entrants got safely under the wire Thursday for Saturday's 45th running of the Gold Cup speedboat race.

Chuck Thompson jammed the 10,500-pound monster around three laps of the three-mile Lake Washington course at an average speed of 103.448 miles per hour, shattering the mark of 102.562 set only Monday by the Gold Cup champion, Slo-Mo-Shun V.

Lou Fagel, whose spectacular driving pushed the Slo-Mo V to victory a year ago, gave Owner Stan Sayres of Seattle—and several hundred fans—a bad fright during a practice run. Taking a tight turn at high speed, the V suddenly spun and reared high in the flying spray.

Aside from a carburetor full of water, she suffered no damage and soon roared back to her base under her own power for a complete check that disclosed no damage.

Feller To Pitch Against Browns

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a three-game series with the seventh-place St. Louis Browns here today trailing the league-leading New York Yankees by only two games in the lost column.

While the Indians were idle Thursday, New York split with Washington to keep its three-game lead, but the world champions now have played two more games than Cleveland.

Bob Feller will hurl for the Tribe tonight. Mike Garcia will make his fourth try for victory No. 15 Saturday night, and Bob Lemon will pitch the finale here for Cleveland Sunday.

Duane Pillette, Ned Garver and Tommy Byrnes, the Big Three of the Browns, are ready to go against the Tribe, probably in that order.

Manager Al Lopez expects to start rookie Bill Glynn at first base for Cleveland. Glynn replaced Luke Easter in the lineup at Chicago Wednesday after Luke fanned five times and failed to hit in seven times up during Tuesday's double-header there.

Tennis Championships To Be Decided Today

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two more Ohio Valley tennis championships will be decided today.

Ed Rubinoff and Jerry Moss, both of Miami Beach, Fla., will battle it out for the junior boys' singles crown while Dolores Steurenberg and Martha Logan, both of Cincinnati, will clash for the junior girls' singles title.

The first of the Ohio Valley titles, decided Thursday, went to Mike Green of Miami Beach in the boys' singles and to Carolyn Wikoff of Middletown in the girls' singles.

Score In Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Herman Keiser, Lima, O., carded a 38-35—73 Thursday in the first round of the men's World golf championship on the Tam O'Shanter Course. Par is 36-36—72.

In the women's division, Pauline Frey, Canton, O. scored 40-48—88.

Coach At Suffield

KENT, O. (AP)—Clarence Duffner Jr., a Bowling Green State University graduate and coach at Webster Township in Wood County the last two years, has been named head coach of all sports at Suffield High School.

Golf Pros Slug Tam O'Shanter

$90,000 In Prizes To Be Distributed

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (AP)—Tam O'Shanter Country Club was ready to post this notice today: "Wanted — the murderers of par."

Seldom has a golf course been so thoroughly sandbagged by a bunch of money hounds as this gaily-decorated carnival grounds.

Promoter George S. May, acting like the goose that laid the golden egg, turned it into a race track by offering a $90,000 purse distribution for a world championship tournament.

The winner will collect $25,000, second place is worth $12,500, third $5,000 and so on down the list to $200 for 41st position.

Wild-eyed pros, some of whom have grown lean eating hamburgers on the gruelling tourney grind to make ends meet, set out for the bonanza in yesterday's first round.

As expected, par 36-36 — 72 wasn't worth a plugged nickel. Twenty-eight, or 35 per cent of the field of 80, shattered these figures.

Breaking into the lead was a pair of club pros, Lew Worsham and Pete Cooper, each with 65.

They were followed by another player who gave up the tournament ordeal to stick mainly to teaching, Harry Todd, and a South American wanderer, Roberto de Vincenzo.

De Vincenzo, swarthy PGA champion of his country who has been traveling like a nomad through the U. S. tournament circuit, and Todd, the Dallas, Tex., father of five children, each posted 67.

These four front-runners — Cooper the former truck driver from Florida now of White Plains, N. Y.; Worsham, the 1947 National Open champion from Oakmont, Pa.; Todd and De Vincenzo have earned a total of only $10,817 in tournament golf this season.

"They'll choke up in the stretch drive," said veteran Dutch Harrison, speaking like a tout, "and some of us old timers will pass them."

Dutch was satisfied with a starting 72 and was grouped with such "oldtimers" as Chandler Harper, Cary Middlecoff, Skee Riegel and Jim Turnesa.

Bunched at 68, only three strokes off the first round pace, were Dave Douglas; Earl Stewart; Jim Ferrer; Julius Boros, the surprise 1952 National Open Champion, and Mario Gonzales, the Rio De Janeiro pro hoping to outshoot De Vincenzo.

Running simultaneously in the "world" championships are the men's amateurs, women's amateurs and women's pros.

Tophands in those divisions in order: Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., with 68 and Frank Stranahan with 70; Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., with 77 and Mary Ann Villegas, New Orleans, with 78; and Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., 72, Patty Berg, Chicago, 73, and Louise Suggs, Atlanta, 74.

Butler Grange Competes For State Grange Title

Butler Grange, member of the Class AA Softball League begins competition tonight for the state grange softball title, which they captured last year.

The Grangers will face Baird Grange of Minerva in a two-of-three-game series, the first contest slated tonight at Lake Placencia and the second scheduled for Saturday evening at the Placencia diamond. Should a third game be needed, it will be played Sunday.

Present plans will stage the state finals here in Salem if the local Grangers get into the finals. They captured the title last season and are expected to be a contender this year.

Cards, Phillies Are Closing On Leaders

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer Eddie Stanky, the brash freshman, and Steven O'Neill, the old greybeard back for another try, are turning the National League into a four-club race while Brooklyn and New York trade punches in a private neighborhood brawl.

Preoccupied in their personal feud the Dodgers and Giants seem to be concerned only with the yes or no of "a miracle of '52." The Brooks gather around Chuck Dressen to "stop the Giants" and the Giants charge at Leo Durocher's call to "remember last year." Neither pays much attention to the onrushing Cards and Phillies.

St. Louis, closing ground in huge chunks under Stanky's skillful piloting, are making the most of their big chance. While the Dodgers, Giants and Phils bicker among themselves for the next 10 days, they feast on Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

The Cards closed to within 8½ games of the Dodgers last night by whipping Cincinnati, 7-4, as Brooklyn rebounded from an afternoon 8-2 defeat to top New York in the night half of their day-night double header, 7-5.

Philadelphia, winning 28 of 40 starts since O'Neill replaced Eddie Sawyer as manager, swept a pair from the Boston Braves, 2-1 and 10-2 behind Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer. Roberts' three-hitter was his 17th victory.

"Nobody gained anything in the American, except the seventh-place St. Louis Browns who are too far back to make any difference. The leading New York Yankees split with Washington, losing the first 4-2 but copping the second 7-1 on Bob Kuzava's four-hitter. The Boston Red Sox dropped the first of two at Philadelphia, 7-5 but came back to break even, 8-4. The Browns won their second straight 12-inning game from Detroit, 5-4, on Gordon Goldsberry's double.

Cleveland and Chicago in the American and Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National were not scheduled.

School Teacher Wins Archery Tournament

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Bob Larsen, a 26-year-old school teacher from Phoenix, Ariz., who took up archery less than two years ago, today is the men's champion of the 68th National Archery tournament. Larsen won the championship here Thursday, posting a score of 3,113. Second place honors went to Max Hamilton, also of Phoenix.

Red Sox Option Delock

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox have optioned rookie pitcher Ike Delock to the Louisville American Association farm club, subjected to 24-hour recall, to make room for veteran hurler Ellis Kinder.

Kinder was placed on the inactive list on June 7 because of a back ailment.

Ohio College Grid Outfits Have Many Out-of-State Foes

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The trains, planes and buses look like the big winners as Ohio's collegiate footballers square away for the 1952 campaign.

There's nothing isolationist about the 197 game schedule cooked up for the Buckeye brigade this fall, for 89 of the contests are against clubs from 22 other states.

Teams from New York to Washington, and Minnesota to Texas, appear on the slates of the Ohioans, assuring plenty of travel.

Most of the journeying will be done by invading squads as 16 states send teams into the Buckeye realm for 53 games. Ohio sends teams to 16 states for 36 tilts.

Sandwiched in the 197-game program, extending from Sept. 13 to Nov. 27 are 40 Ohio Conference contests, 19 Mid-American Conference frays, and 15 in the Mid-Ohio League. Forty-six of the games will be staged at night, with 151 in the afternoon.

Most of the teams have lost plenty of talent from the squadrons of 1951, but hopes always run high in the pre-season forecasts.

Cincinnati Favored In Junior Tourney

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Undefeated Cincinnati takes on once-beaten Akron here today (9 a. m. EST) in the semifinals of the American Legion junior baseball tournament.

Cincinnati, defending champion and runner-up in the national tournament last year, was a heavy favorite to win and to meet Portsmouth Saturday.

Portsmouth, only other team remaining in the double-elimination tournament, drew an automatic bye under tournament rules because it beat Akron and lost to Cincinnati earlier.

Akron defeated Lancaster 4-9 and Portsmouth edged Marion 4-3 Thursday morning. Zanesville, previously unbeaten, lost to Cincinnati 7-5 in the morning and to Akron 8-6 in the afternoon. Portsmouth whitewashed Miamisburg 6-0 in the other afternoon tilt.

If Cincinnati wins today and defeats Portsmouth Saturday morning, the tournament will be over. But if Portsmouth should beat Cincinnati Saturday morning, another game will be scheduled between the two in the afternoon for the championship.

Heroic Sailors Saved Boxer From Flaming Explosions

TOKYO (U.S. Far East Naval Headquarters today described how heroic crewmen saved the aircraft carrier Boxer from flaming explosions which killed nine shipmates.

Minutes after flames broke out below decks at dawn Wednesday, crewmen braved smoke and inferno-like heat to unload bombs and ammunition from planes readied for strikes against the Communists in North Korea.

Other seamen donned oxygen masks and rescued comrades trapped by smoke and flames. Their skipper called it an "inspiring performance."

The Navy here said the fire and explosions injured 32. The injury toll reported in Washington was 75, but a Navy spokesman here said that probably included those temporarily overcome by smoke but not injured.

The Washington account differed in other respects. The Navy Department said one exploding jet plane touched off the disaster and 12 other planes were destroyed.

Headquarters said the cause was undetermined and did not reveal extent of the damage.

The fire and explosions seared the 27,000-ton flattop's hangar deck—the level immediately below the flight deck.

A Naval court of inquiry was ordered to investigate. Rear Adm. Herbert C. Regan, commander of Carrier Division One, was appointed its senior officer.

Although Capt. Marshall B. Gurney, the skipper, said the Boxer was able to carry on its mission, the carrier was sent to Japan for repairs. The explosions occurred while the Boxer was 90 miles east of Wonsau, Korean East Coast port.

The nine dead included a Navy doctor and two hospitalmen who braved nearby flames to care for wounded shipmates. An exploding shell got them. One man was lost overboard. Helicopters and small boats rescued 62 others who were forced into the sea by the choking smoke and flames.

Seconds after the first fire was discovered, the Navy said, smoke flames and explosions filled the hangar deck.

In the engine room, perspiring crewmen wore oxygen masks and stuck to their posts.

The injured and smoke-stricken streamed to emergency medical facilities set up in the wardroom and on the flight deck. Sailors and seagoing Marines lined up to offer blood.

In midafternoon, after the flames had been quelled, Capt. Gurney broadcast over the loudspeaker: "Today I witnessed the most inspiring performance of my life. You unhesitating willingness to push into the inferno to save your ship and your shipmates was a supreme test of valor and devotion to duty. We shall carry on as our beloved shipmates, now lost, would have wished us to do."

The ship was expected to arrive at the U.S. Naval base at Yokosuka, Japan, tomorrow. The carrier Bon Homme Richard was ordered to take the Boxer's place off Korea.

Old Opponent of Russia

Greece, one of the newest members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is one of Russia's veteran opponents in the global hot-cold war.

The Greeks fought and won a bloody campaign against Communist expansion.

The United States since 1947 has supplied arms and training to build a modern Greek Army.

High ranking Greek officers told this reporter the Bulgarians are good fighters and are among the best of Russia's satellite troops.

The Kremlin reportedly has been intensifying its effort in recent months to modernize and strengthen its satellite forces, including Bulgaria, and to supply them with jet aircraft.

Bulgaria is one main invasion route from Central Europe for any thrust toward the vital Mediterranean, believed to be a prime Soviet target. For this reason Greece and Turkey form the southern anchor of Allied defenses in Europe.

Even if Russia has no intention of risking major warfare now in this vital region, the long and tense Balkan borders provide another opportunity to heighten pressure in the cold war.

Over 10,000 Letters Stolen By Mailman

DETROIT (U.S.)—Thousands of east side Detroit residents today began receiving letters four and five years old as postal inspectors sifted through a basement-filling pile of undelivered and stolen mail.

The letters, estimated at more than 10,000, plus tons of packages containing every form of mailable merchandise, were recovered in the house of Roman Kortes, a 50-year old veteran mailman.

Kortes pleaded guilty in Federal Court here yesterday, less than six hours after his arrest to two charges of embezzlement from the mails.

"I had to do it," was all the mail carrier could offer in explanation at his arraignment.

A veteran of 28 years in the postal service, Kortes was only seven years from retirement when postal officials uncovered his fantastic hoard of packages and letters—a collection so large that two mail trucks were required to return it to the postoffice for sorting and identification.

Postal Inspector Earl Wheeler said Kortes had no real reason for the thefts which dated back as far as 10 years.

"I didn't get anything out of it," the mail carrier said "I just had to take those things. It didn't seem right to leave them lying around. My wife told me I'd get caught, too. She warned me, time after time, I guess she was right."

Postal officials began investigating Kortes after householders along his route complained of not receiving packages and letters sent to them.

Frank Chelf (D-Ky) and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY).

Chelf and committee counsel Stephen A. Mitchell of Chicago were reported backing Malone for McGraney's chief deputy.

Besides being a friend of Mitchell, Malone is a member of the Board of Governors of the American Bar Association which has been seeking more voice in the selection of department personnel. The association advocates stricter non-political professional standards for government attorneys.

While little known in official Washington, the 42-year-old Malone has a record as an able oil and gas attorney in the Southwest and is described as a leader in the younger element in the bar association.

His appointment, informed sources said, probably will be followed by the firing of "at least two" district attorneys—not identified.

The Chelf committee, and especially the chairman, has made no secret of feeling that certain district attorneys "have got to go" for the good of the department.

Hogs Worth $40,000 May Be Destroyed

COLUMBUS, O. (U.S.)—More than $40,000 worth of Ohio hogs quarantined for vesicular exanthema appeared headed for destruction today because no slaughter house wants the hard task of processing their meat.

Dr. Harry C. Geyer, state veterinarian, said Thursday, however, he is reluctant to order their destruction. He wants to be sure first that legal procedures are worked out for compensating the owners.

One herd in Franklin County was shipped from a New Jersey area where the disease is prevalent. Tests still are being made to determine if the hogs have the disease. The other herd, in Lorain County, has been tested as positive for vesicular exanthema.

Dr. Geyer said slaughter houses must take extensive care in processing a hog afflicted with the disease which is new in Ohio. After such animals are slaughtered, their meat must be cooled at less than 40 degrees Fahrenheit for 36 hours. Then the meat must be boned and all the trim and waste processed at a high temperature. The remaining boned meat then must be cooked at not less than 160 degrees Fahrenheit.

So far no other cases of the disease have been reported in the state. And under an emergency regulation adopted by Ohio July 31, no more hogs can be shipped into the state unless they are headed for immediate slaughter or unless they are shipped under special conditions requiring state permits.

The agriculture department expects this emergency order to prevent further spread of the disease into Ohio.

Dr. Geyer said the attorney general's office is looking into the legal procedure for compensating owners of any hogs destroyed because of the disease.
